

Product Case Study

Case Study: Defenders & Fire Shutters at Sainsbury's, Washington

Client: Longcross
Architects: Hadfield Cawkwell Davidson
Main Contractor: Longcross

Project details: As a long-standing existing store, Sainsbury's Washington at The Galleries was revamped with a new cafe on the mezzanine floor and an additional entrance area. The main proposed alteration was the creation of a new entrance / exit lobby on the shopfront and a modified store entrance from the mall. In addition to this new shutters to the loading bay area were also required.

Client requirements: As the store had an entrance off The Galleries Shopping Mall there was a necessity for a fire control product that would stop the spread of fire from the store to the Mall. This all had to be integrated with the existing structure and be in keeping with Sainsbury's branding and colour schemes. Two security shutters were also required to the loading bay area.

Door Solutions: Armourpost supplied and installed our fire shutters on the mall store entrance. Our options of delayed descent with an audio / visual warning were included to ensure customer safety in the event of a fire. In addition, operation in the event of a power failure as well as a controlled descent further protect the customers from risk of injury. Our Defender shutters were used for the loading bay area providing security between the unloading area and the store.
